MEDICAL AND SCIENTIFIC PROGRESS OF THE AGE.

A few words of explanation to the constant readers of this p A few words of explanation to the constant readers of this para are advisable in order to remove the perhaps natural belief that the widely extended notices published regarding the Graefenberg Medical Institution of New-York relate only to what are ordinarily denominated patent or queck medicines.

The Graefenberg Medical Institution, though making the preparation and sale of reliable Family Medicines the leading feature of the substitution of the property of the substitution of th aration and sale of reliable Family Medicines the leading feature of this establishment, differs from all others in the fact that it is organized under special legislative authority from the State of New-York, thus rendering it a responsible and trustworthy institution, verying widely from the general catchpenny things so plausibly offered to the public as cure-alls in the form of medicine. Though only about lifteen years have elapsed from its commencement, the Gracfenberg Medical institution has become one of the most widely known and firmly established in the country, and, withits reputation for skill, integrity and confidence, may safely challenge comparison with any either medical organization in the world.

Being aware that all advertised articles are liable to the suspicion of interested motives, and knowing that most medical advertised of interested motives, and knowing that most medical adpicion of interested motives, and knowing that most medical advertisements are more or less colored by the withes and advantage of the advertisers, it seeks, by a plain and candid style of publication, to gain the confidence and esteem of reflecting and intelligent men and women, but makes no appeal to those who would promote private ends at the expense of the public good. To use the words of a leading American journalist and foreign correspondent, "scientific as well as practical observation convinces us that an allwise Providence has supplied in the vegetable kingdom, and in simple forms, remedies for every disease incident to humanity." The celebrated English reformer, Graham, says: "Man endeavors to effect his ends by multiplied and complicated measures, forgetting that God accomplishes the most mighty ends by simple means, most of which He has placed at the disposal of inquiring men." "It is because of their complicated prescription and penderous machinery that people have lost so much faith in medical schools, and it is precisely because of their simple and natural methods of cure that the Graefenberg theory and practice has become so universally popular with the people, and is so rapidly gaining the entire confidence of the greatest medical intellects throughout the civilized world. The Graefenberg medical preparations, guided by true science, have achieved the most embient success, and must ere long revolutionize the ontire present system of treating disease. For a sixth of a cantury these medicines have been in practical use, and now there is no portion of the Christian world but what is familiar with these simple but effective remedies, the discovery of which may well throw ordinary scientific and philanthropic far into the shade."

ALEXANDER'S SALE OF SHORT-HORNS.

LEXINGTON, Ky., June 13, 1860. The sixth annual sale of Short-Horn Cattle at Wood-burn Farm, from the far-famed herd of R. Atchison Alexander, esq., which was advertised, I think, only two weeks ago, to take place to-day, attracted a large number of gentlemen, mostly those engaged in breeding cattle. Of course the largest portion of them was from this State, but there was quite a respectable num-ber from other States, among whom were Mr. Robbins of Connecticut, Samuel Thorne and Mr. Cornell of New-York, Mr. Chaffee and the Mesers Dun of Ohio, Mr. Meredith of Indiana, Mr. Shields of Missouri, beside others whose names I now forget.

The sale commenced at 10½ o'clock with the bulls.

No. 1, Lord Languish, a fine three-year old, whose yard was injured when a yearling but is believed to be all right now, was started at $50, and run quickly up to $225, at which figure he was knocked down to R Baldridge of Wayne County, Indiana. No. 2, Derby Duke, a fine bred yearling bull, ap peared rather wild, started at $100, and sold to Merritt Neal, Woodford Co., Ky., for $170. No. 3, Fitz Bell, a yearling of Fordham Duke, sold to Friend Rufus Bryant of the Pleasaut-Hill Shakers, at $102 50, and I will venture to say they will sell him during the year for three times his cost. No. 4. Juniper, bright red, went for half his value to John Monnett of Ohio, for $107 50.

No. 5, Election, a fine red yearling, by Fordham Duke, started at $50, and knocked off to of Mo. for $80. A beggarly price for him.

No. 6, Marske, hardly as fleshy as the others, started at $50, and ran briskly up to $165, sold to J. S. Wool-No. 7, Volunteer, by Fordham Duke, large size, good back, started at $50, and sold to Mr. John G. Dun of Ohio, for $275. No. 8, Phantom, red yearling, good flank, brisket, good hind end, fine head and neck, but rather narrow tips, sold to W. B. Hudson, Nashville, for $90, or about one-third his value. No. 9, Rataphan, a very clever yearling, very straight back, and round body, sold for $105 to D. F.

Huffstader, Orange Co., Ind. No. 10, Morisco, a bull of great substance, excellent rump, went for $87 50 to C. C. Chrisman of Jessamine

Co., Ky.
No. II, Zingaree, white, an excellent calf, but he had an unpardonable fault, and that was his color, pure white, sold for $35 to C. A. Stevenson of Woodford Co. So much for fashion. Had he been red or roan, he would readily have brought four or six times as much. Ten years ago white was a favorite color

No. 12, Falconer, and I could not discover that he wasany better than No. 11, but he was a rich roan, started at $50, and knocked down quick to Robert Soott of Franklin County for $157 50.

No. 13, Langar, sold quick for $205 to J. R. Ward of Scott Co. No. 14, Mogul, the best yet offered, started at $100, and quickly sold for $330 to R. G. Dun of Madison

County, Ky., who refused $75 for his bargain an hour

No. 15, Peter, by Albion, a large calf, sold to Mr. Whissaker of Texas for $75, and was very cheap. No. 16, Marion, by Duke of Airdrie, 9 months old, good size, good flank twist, upper line, and hind end, started at $50, and knocked down to B. C. Bedford of Bourbon County, for $360. No. 17, Fordham, sold for $140 to John Ross, Crawford County, Ohio. No. 18, York, twin to the last, brought $155 of J. P. Wilder, Louisville.

No. 19, Hopeful, sold to Mr. Dodheim of Woodford County, for $50. The cows were started at 12 o'clock; No. 1, Orba 2d, 7 years old, sold to Robert Clark, Bourbon County, for $100. No. 2, Mary Ann 18th, not with calf as by the catalogue, consequently sold for $77 50, to G. W. Anderson

No. 3, Mary Ann 20th, readily brought $125 from J. B. Dunn of Garrard.
No. 4, Mary Ann 22d, heavily with calf, started at $50, and soon sold for $150 to S. W. Robbins of Wethersfield, Conn. No. 5, Chance 5th, a fine 2 year old, went quick at $205 to the same gentleman, who afterward refused

No. 6, Pearlette, a beautiful beifer, in calf to Albion, after a sharp contest was knocked off to J. S. Johnson No. 7, Mary Cattley, by Doctor Buckingham, two years old, and in calf to the fourth Duke of Airdrie, sold for $130 to E. Cornell of Ithica, N. Y., being the best bargain so far of the cows.

No. 8, Prune, suffered on account of being white to go for $85 to G. B. Dunn of Garrard.
No. 9, Emma, by Sirius, started at $50, and was quickly knocked down to J. O. Sheldon, Geneva, N.

Y., for $205.

No. 10, Fillagree, by Fordham Duke, a fine year-ling, started at $100, and sold for $190 also to Mr.

No. 11, Pear'ette 3d, by Albion, went quick for

No. 12, 7 id Marion, by Albion, started at $200, and soon brought $235 of the same gentleman.

No. 13, Rosamond, by Fordbam Duke, started by Mr. Cornell at $200, and knocked off to him without

No. 14, Lilla Languish, by Sirius, and dam by Duke of Gloster, was not quite so fleshy as the others, but a beautiful heifer; started by Mr. Cornell at $75, and knocked off to him at that price. He has since refused an advance of $50 on her. No. 15, Eveline, a beautiful red, but frisky and u ensy, started at $50, and sold for $100 to D. W. Jones No. 16, Mary Allen, by Orontes 2d, went quick o Mr. Shields of Lexington, Mo. No. 17, Margaret Allen, equally as good as

No. 18, Jewess. had a horn knocked off, and was not No. 19, Idle Girl, after a sharp contest, was knocked off for $150, to Mr. Sheidon of New-York.

The prices which the animals brought is no evidence of their relative worth, some of the very best selling quite low, and others not so desirable bringing much more. Some of the gentlemen when they bid on an animal would not stop till they had bought it.

The animals were put up without reserve; not a single false bid was made, and every one seemed per-feetly satisfied with the conduct of the sale. I think I never raw men better satisfied than those who pur-Twelve Southdown yearling bucks and ewes sold

RATIFICATION OF THE NOMINATIONS. SPEECHES OF EX-GOV. KING, JOSEPH HOXIE,

AND GEORGE WILLIAM CURTIS.

On Saturday afternoon while the great attraction of the Japanese reception was drawing tens of thousands of people from the country in every direction to this great center, Queens County was alive with excitement of another kind. A grand Republican ratification meeting was announced to take place at Hempstead, at 2 o'clock. At about I o'clock a long procession of carriages and waggons, decorated with the national escutcheon, and the names of Abraham Lincoln for President and Henrikal Bendin for Vice President was riages and waggons, decorated with the national escutcheon, and the names of Abraham Lincoln for President and Hannibal Hamlin for Vice-President, was formed at Jamaica, headed by ex-Gov. John A. King, Joseph Hoxie, and George William Curtis, and proceeded or the plank-road to Hempstead. In the waggons were delegations from Jamaica, Flushing, Oyster Bay, Newtown, Brushville, and other points in Queens County.

As the procession went along the road, new forces were received by the way; and as the echoes of the music sounded the advance, people crowded to their deors and windows to view the Republicans going to ratify their ticket. At various points they were greeted with cheers. On the way out everything appeared calculated to attach men to the free soil over which they were marching. Nature seemed glad; vegetation was smiling healthy good-will to freemen, and the laborer appeared willing to look at the procession as a type of the host which shall soon advance to the White House, and prepare for Freedom's harvest in territory saved from Slavery's blighting hand. The Union Clubs of Jamaica, Hempstead, and Flushing lad printed cards containing the platform of the party tied to their button-holes with ribbons, and were accompanied by a vigorous brase band, which gave out plenty of good music.

At length the procession reached Hempstead, where an immense throng of people from all quarters of the county had assembled, and up went cheer upon cheer, until the town resounded to the hurrahs of freemen from its one extremity to the other.

The large ball at Hewlett's Hotel having been filled to fix uttermost capacity, the meeting was called to order by Mr. Rosert L. Meers, who moved that ex-

Ex-Gov. King then rose and eald that they were assembled to ratify the nominations made by the National Republican Convention at Chicago on the 16th of May—nominations which were ultimately unanimous, and in such a manner as to render that action almost unparalleled in the history of the country. That Convention included mind and superior intelligence, representing the whole country. He had gone there in the hope and under the impression of nominating Wm. H. Seward as the candidate for the Presidency [applanse], but they had found it impossible to procure certain States to unite upon him, and with a good, free, and open vote, the name adopted by the Convention was that of Abraham Lincoln. Three cheers for Lincoln.] When that name was given to the Convention as having been nominated, a scene took place the like of which he had never seen before and never expected to see again. The truth was the people thought they had settled upon the very man for the day. It was this settled conviction that aroused the unbounded enthusiasm which burst forth from 10,000 hearts, and sought its outlet in 10,000 voices, which he could yet hear echoing across the prairies of Illinois. Such was the temper, the feeling, the reciprocal spirit which prevailed in the Convention, that when the outburst, occasioned by the announcement of the candidate's name was made, severy del gate, whatever had been his preferences before, felt strong in the confidence that what he saw and heard was premonitory of success in November, beyond all doubt. He was sure that this confidence was well placed. Abrham Lincoln's character, his beginning, his progress, the elements of power and vigor which were united in his manhood, the elements of a freeman's character, intelligence and manliness, all combined to present him as the man for the people. He had been in conflict with able men, and had proved this, that so far as his character, intelligence coin the President of the United States. [Long-continued cheers.]

Mr. ROBERT L. WEEKS offered the following resolutions, which were adopted amid the reiterated cheers of the assembled multiwide:

Resolved, That the Republicans of the County of Queens in mass meeting assembled, do heartily and cheerfully ratify and inderes the assumations of Abraham Lincoln and Hambal Hamilto, as candidates for the offices of President and Vice-President of the United Stated.

Resolved, That in Abraham Lincoln we have a standard-bearer fresh from the people, honcet, able, and true, in whose hands the fter the cheering with which he was received, had mbrided, he said he too belonged to the First District, and he knew that all in that district who were opposed to a corrupt administration were blood relations. It was pleasant to be first; if in nothing else, to belong to the first district of the first State of the first country in the world. He was happy to say that in comrany with Mr. Meeks he had attended the first Republican Convention which had nominated one of the first kind of men who would be the first Republican President of the United States. He never looked across the bay to Brooklyn and saw the spires towering above overything else, but he thought "what a naughty place "Brooklyn is!" If he was not standing on their sland, he would say that his (Staten) island was the most beautiful in the world. It grows everything but Republicans. But when they set to work making sone, it would be sure to be done well and speedity. The men of Staten I sland did things anddet by, and. ert scione of the presence in which he glood, he would respectfully inform them that they did things under by, and. ert scione of the presence in which he glood, he would respectfully inform them that they did things under by, and. ert scione of the presence in which he glood, he would respectfully inform them that they did things under by, and. ert scione of the presence in which he glood, he would respectfully inform them that they did things under by and they would be able to get rid of Democrats in the same way. By any and question which now divided the country was Labor as being the foundation of Capital—the foundation of all prosperity. It was Labors being the privile set of the nation in the same way that they came to knowing their local rights, and it was an acquisintance with their own rights. They knew these rights as citizens of the nation in the same way that they came to knowing their local rights, and it was for them to say whether the Territories were to be cultivated by Free Labor or blighted with the curse of Slavery. He was a Republican—the present the present privileges conferred by the Constitution, the Declaration of Ex-Gov. King demanded a song from which was given in a manner worthy of ran's paimlest days in politie.

The Chairman then said that as their neighbor, he would declare that happy a meeting adjourned. Three cheers were given Gov. King, and three for the nominations immense throng sought their homes.
